LEGISLATURE SAFE, AND A REPUB-LICAN TO BE ELECTED SENATOR.

Additional Congratulations Received by McKinley-Wyoming Safe in the Sound-Money Column.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 8.-The following statement was given out to-night at o'clock from the Republican headquarters, under Chairman Roberts's signature:

"Practically complete official returns give McKiniey 444 plurality in Kentucky, un-official advices indicating that the four missing counties will increase rather than decrease these figures. The Republicans elect four members of Congress and a judge of the highest court of the State for an eight-year term, and by the filling of vacancies have secured a majority of two in the General Assembly on joint ballot, which insures a Republican successor to Senator Blackburn. The total vote in the State will approximate 425,000, an increase of 70,000 over last year's vote and 25,000 more than the highest estimates before the election. The Republican vote increased about 40,000 over Governor Bradley's vote the Tribune from Chevenne Wyo year ago, which was 17,000 higher than ever before cast in a presidential election, and the Democratic vote was 29,000 higher. These figures will give some idea of the intensity of the political struggle through which Kentucky has just passed." The following telegram was sent to-day by the chairman of the Republican State campaign committee to Hon. M. A. Hanna, Hotel Waldorf, New York:

"Practically complete official returns make our majority 500 in Kentucky. We polled 40,000 more votes for McKinley than Governor Bradley received, but fusion and fraud almost robbed us of victory. We have been sleeping on our arms for a week. but are now out of danger. Chairman Roberts also sent the following telegram to President-elect McKinley to-

"Kentucky, for the first time in its history, has been carried by the Republicans presidential year. After four days of anxious watching and waiting the official returns to-day show you have carried the State by about 500 plurality. Four years ago Kentucky gave Cleveland 40,000 plurality and cast 23,500 Populist votes. The fusion of Populists and Democrats year was complete and your victory means figures of 1892. A year of rest from political agitaintervening between now and the meeting of Congress is indispensable to all classes. This, I imagine, we shall have. Admonished by Cleveland's misadventures with Congress, Mr. McKinley will hardly risk an extra session, but too much must not be expected. The country has escaped from imminent peril, but the elements of disorder still exist, with their temper unabated. On the other hand, the friends of credit and order embrace many differences of opinion and may not be brought into concurrent action except under pressure of necessity. It may require four years more to bring the country to a sense of where its danger truly lies. I do not expect the decisive battle will be fought or won before 1900.

I put to Mr. Watterson the question

"What are your views respecting sound money, the future of the Democrats. and the parties in the United States gen-"That is a question not easy to answer. Much will depend on circumstances which cannot be clearly foreseen. Sound-money Democrats have aided the Republicans to rescue the country from the serious dangers which threatened it. Whether the allong, depends partly upon the course which the new administration takes and partly upon the disposition of those Democrats who, though they supported Bryan on grounds of party discipline, did not approve of the extremes of the Chicago platthe campaign. Mr. McKinley, who is one of the best of men and most patriotic of citizens, is still a radical protectionist, and if he should insist on the assertion of his doctrine and its embodiment into law. there are thousands of men equally patrihim. On the other hand, the proscriptive spirit of the Bryan Democrats makes an immediate effect upon the Democratic ele-ment uncertain, if not unlikely. The line of the Indianapolis platform is the only platform on which the party can be reorganized. Those Democrats who cannot come to that will go into the camp of the

There has been no time these fifty years when we could not have done so if we had wanted possession of the island. But the truth is we do not want it. I want to see Cuba well governed, contented and prosperous. Americans respect the grandeur of Spanish history and look not without commiseration upon the decline of the Spanish race. As a nation we respect ourselves in refusing to embarrass or bully a weaker power than ourselves. But the question is how long we should be expected to stand off and witness such impotency and inhumanity as Spain is displaying in Cuba. At the request of the directors General A. J. Warner, the president of the union, has issued the following address to the silver leagues and bimetallic unions of the United States;

"Silver has lost in this election, but the battle for the overthrow of the gold standard has not ended. The disastrous consequences that must attend upon the continuance of this standard make it impossible to relinquish the struggle against it until it is finally overthrown.

The gold standard cannot be maintained by increasing revenues, because revenues are not paid in gold. The attempt to maintain the gold standard by perpetual loans must also sooner or later fail. The only triguing to bring about war between other way is by contracting the currency the law take it and forcing down prices so low that gold as whites threat was unjustly sentenced. Will come here of itself in such quantities Mrs. Clark dies as to constitute, in part at least, the cur-rency with which revenues are paid, and no debtor nation can long maintain such a policy. Either course, therefore, leads to inevitable ruin; the one by bankrupting the government and the other by bankrupting the people. Either policy will subject the United States absolutely to British domination, and hence the rejoicing of the British press over the defeat of silver here. "The victory for gold is a victory of trusts and syndicated wealth, brought about by corruption and coercion, and not a victory of the people, or for the people, and it cannot last. There must be an end also to the constant appreciation of money The appreciation of money alone, if allowed to go on at the rate it has gone on for the past twenty years, will, in half a generation more, transfer the bulk of all the wealth of this country from those who have created it to the hands of the few who control money and own debts. power can be conceived so potent to gather wealth into few hands as the ceaseless, allpervading power of an appreciating money standard. What an Authority on Currency Questions Says About Silver.

LONDON, Nov. 8.-The Vienna cor respondent of the Times says: "Professor Suesz, the greatest of European authorities on the currency question, writes a letter to the Nueus Wiener Tageblat entitled 'A Word of Warning to Europe's Diplomacy.' Professor Suesz agrees with the English Bimetallic League that Mr. McKinley's election involves a triumph for international bimetallism over national bimetallism, but he regards Mr. Bryan's defeat as fortunate for the United States and for the intercourse of the world in general. Free silver, he thinks, would have driven all gold out of America, and the introduction United States would have been inevitable for an indefinite period. This would have divided the world into two camps-one, the great silver field, comprising the whole of America and the whole of Asia, and the other the gold area, including Europe, portions of Africa and Australia.

"Professor Suesz says that it is puerile to consider such questions in the light gains and losses of mine owners, and that it is equally puerile to consider that the election has solved the silver question, world. Recent events, on the contrary, he thinks, have proved the existence of a general feeling that the injustice by which creditors benefit and which proceeds from existing conditions of the coinage is ever assuming large proportions.
"The bimetallic movement in Europe is extending," says Professor Suesz. coinage has twice brought us in recent years to the verge of universal when gold production was nant till the discovery of the African gold field, and, second, the Bryan agitation.' Professor Suesz concludes with the expression of his opinion that Europe's hailing Mr. McKinley, whose tariff so injured foreign interests, is not very dignified, and that they should rather earnestly consider whether it is not their duty to relieve the world of a state of affairs so full of danger.

dispatch om New York warns Europe not to expect Mr. McKinley to allow his protectionist views to fall into abeyance, but it considers that the passage of a new tariff bill is uncertain and remote, and thinks that there is likely enough to be renewed attempts on the part of the United States to push forward a scheme of inter-national bimetallism, "because," says the Times, "it is obviously America's inter-st to do something for silver.' The Times also says with reference to the assertions of Professor Suesz, the Austrian "Professor Suesz's assumptions about the injustice of the maintenance of the gold standard have been already refuted many times.

Conditions Are Ripe for a Revival Trade-Activity in Indiana and Ohio Oil Fields.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TOLEDO, O., Nov. 8 .- Advices from Indiana and Ohio oil fields show that while operations are not unusually a cive there are expectations of a vigorous borm in the near future. When other ind ries are prosperous there is always a good demand for oil. During the month of October there were 1,688,456 barrels of oil run from the Ohio and Indiana oil field, making the daily average runs from the two fields for the month 54,466 barrels. The total shipments for the same period from the two States was 1,705,066 barrels or a dally average of 55,002 barrels. These figures show that the company running and purchasing the oil has been compelled to draw on the surplus only 536 barrels a day for the month it helps to decrease the stocks, and should have a tendency to increase the price of Dispatches from Montpelier, Ind., say: Bold Bros. have completed well No. 8 on the C. D. Porter farm, in Section 25, Hartford township, Adams county, and it is of the gusher stripe, being good for 150 barrels. Burford & Juday have completed well No. 2 on the Joseph Bucher farm, in Section 30, Wabash township, Adams county, and it is good for 120 barrels. The Kerline Bros. Oil Company's well No. 3 on the William Shoemaker farm, in Section 36, Hartford township, same county, is good for thirty barrels. Griffin, O'Donnell & Co.'s well No. 9 on the William Sharp farm, in Section 31. Nottingham township, Wells county, is good for ninety barrels. The Rettman Oli Company's well No. 19 on the P. Shadle farm, in Section 17, Chester township, same county, is good for sixty barrels. Bettman, Watson & Bernheimer's well No. 17, on the P. Shadle farm, in Section 18, same township, is good for fifty barrels. Ben. F. Pyle's No. 1 well on the J. and F. Corn farm, in Section 17, same township, is good for thirty barrels. Scott & Morgan's well No. 8 on the T. E. Scott farm, in Section 30, Nottingham township, same county, is good for forty barrels. One of the most phenomenal oil wells completed in the Ohio oil field for the past two years has just came in on the Foster forty-acre farm, in Section 29, Portage township, Wood county, and twenty-seven miles south of this city. The gusher is owned by the Ohio Oil Company (Standard.) The well is located one mile north from the lamlet of Jerry City, and in territory that has for years been considered worthless for oil. The farm has been looked upon as being situated directly in the line of a dry streak of Trenton rock, while the Lee farm adjoining the west line of the Foster forty acres has upon it some of the finest producing oil wells in the State. When the well was drilled into the oil it commenced to flow and for the first three hours filled two 250-barrel tanks with crude, after which the tanks caught fire from the boilers and the entire thing was consumed. The well is being put into shape again. It is estimated by good, thorough oil operators to be good for at least four thousand barrels a day, making the largest well completed since the striking of the famous Kirkbride gusher in Sandusky county three years ago. On the forty-acre tract adjoining the Foster farm on the north are three dry holes completed some six years ago. The Ohio Oil Company will start some twenty wells in the im Delaney Bros. have two wells drilling just west from the gusher and will start several pleted. New wells will be drilled on the Mullally farm to the north and others on The striking of this well will cause the Revival Should Be Permanent. CHICAGO, Nov. 8 .- James H. Eckels, Controller of the Currency, to-day wired the editor of the Times Herald from Washington the following statement:

"The liquidation of the last three years has prepared the way for a revival of business in this country upon a basis which ought to insure stability and continuance. The immediate effect of propaganda and the isms connected with it is seen in the suggestions everywhere made of preparations for new undertakings and a restarting of old ones. Undoubtedly some of these will fall off, but the general tone of hopefulness will continue and investors will invest in those things which clearly promise a return of profit on the

"I do not believe speculative enterprises will succeed for a long time to come. A great amount of money will come out of hoarding, but it will be used cautiously. The amount which has been secreted in safety vaults and elsewhere is larger than ever in the country's history. Much of it is in gold coin, but not a little is in the form of credit currency, such as bank notes, silver certificates and legal tenders, "The favorable conditions for the people aside from the settlement of the money question, rest in abundant crops here and the shortage elsewhere, the reduction in the stock of manufactured products, and the fact that expenses have been brought to a minimum in every line of business. The banks have since 1893 been charging off bad and better securing doubtful paper, so that they will be able speedily to loan out such sums as business men need. Already deposits are returning to such an extent that the prospect of a strong showing under the next bank call is very flat-with the restored confidence now manifest in our determination to maintain the single gold standard of value and the rehabiliment of American credit there is reason to believe that much foreapital will come I do not see either why the banks should not soon resume furnishing any gold needed in business transactions, a thing they did without injury to themselves until the passage of the Sherman act in 1890. "I believe the national banks should issue all the paper currency of the country, and with this power given them they should be obliged to redeem the same in gold. This they could readily do if the legal tenders were removed, and they would be completely freed from further silver agitation. I have no doubt that under such circumstances they would be willing to undertake
